DID YOU KNOW?

Most animals in Australia are deliberately excluded from animal cruelty laws.

We investigate and expose animal suffering.

Our elite team of international investigators are eyes and ears for animals within Australia and around the world. Each time we investigate and expose cruelty inflicted on victims of industries like the live export trade, we are one step closer to ending it. Our members keep our investigators in the field where animals would otherwise have no one watching over them.

We bring hidden cruelty to light.

Thanks to the support of our members, Animals Australia's campaigns awaken millions to the hidden suffering that animals endure. Inside factory farms, behind the closed doors of slaughterhouses, within gambling industries like greyhound racing, or in cruel live export, we shine a light and empower people around the world to act.

We represent animals with government and industry.

Inadequate laws and unfair industry influence stack the odds against animals in Australia and abroad. Our members and donors secure our seat at the table in these processes, so we can give animals the strongest possible voice.

And you have the power to help.

Every landmark victory for animals is made possible thanks to our members. Join today and help us be where animals need us most.

These animals are just as sensitive, intelligent and social as our companion cats and dogs. But, classed as 'farmed' animals, they are denied the same legal protections from acts of cruelty. They routinely suffer surgical procedures without pain relief, and confinement so extreme it could lead to cruelty charges if inflicted on our pets.
